

AD 449

Angles, SAXONS, and Jutes begin invasion of Britain.

Council

Dioscorus, president, did not avoid the arrival of all the Fathers. Flavian was thus armed with the famous letter in which Pope Leo defined the orthodox doctrine; Dioscorus and his partisans were reinforced by a rabble of Syrian monks who, with the active assistance of the bishops, routed their opponents with fists and cudgels. Flavian died of his ingram, thus giving the name of metropolitan the council and corresponded with a general

reg. condemned & leaving a confusion of Differences of Antiquity and Ecclesiastical Ecumenical was justified, and the doctrine of the One nature declared to be that of the Catholic Church

449 AD \Rightarrow 600

The chief invading tribes were the Jutes from the Danish peninsula (Jutland) and the Saxons and Angles (English) from its base.

The Jutes made the first permanent settlement about 449 A.D in southeastern Britain.

The Saxons occupied the southern shore and the Angles the eastern

Kent was the Kingdom of the Gutes

Swes, Ewes, Weses - Kingdoms
of the South Swes, East Swes, West
Swes.

English Kingdoms of East Angles
Northumbria and Mercia

449

449-1100

1912 Dates J-BK

England

The Anglo-Saxon Period

The Anglo-Saxon invasion of Britain drove the bards to the hills.

They gave us their songs and Arthurian legend (449)

ANGLO-SAXONS

The name given to the combined Low German tribes, the Angles, Jutes, and Saxons who, according to tradition under their leaders HENGIST and HORSA landed in England in 449. They came at the invitation of the inhabitants who could not defend themselves against the attacks of the PICTS and SCOTS of the north, who came down upon them in hordes on the withdrawal of the Roman began from Britain for home defense in 410 by the emperor HONORIUS.

The Anglo-Saxons drove out the remaining and took the remaining for themselves, they established the kingdoms of SUSSEX (South Saxons), WESSEX (West Saxons), ESSAX (East Saxons), MIDDLESEX

(Middle Saxons), NORTHUMBRIA, KENT and MERCA.

These seven divisions were known as the Seven HEPTARCHY.

They were controlled under King EGART,

the last King of all England (in 827).

Tentonic tribes: Britons
HENGIST and Horsa; JUTE chiefs land in THANET.

The Country between the THAMES and ~~ANDREW~~ ANDREDSWEALD was gradually conquered.

East & West Kent.

Robt SYNOD OF Ephesus
Also called LATROCINIUM; this was a meeting in 449 presided over by the heretical DIOSCURUS of Alexandria.
The synod advanced Nestorian doctrines, ignoring the pope and his rights.

C449

HFENGIST and HORSIA land in Kent

Germanic invaders settle in numbers in Britain. In the course of the 5th and 6th centuries Britain became split into small kingdoms; Celtic to the north & west, and Saxon to the east. The name "SAXON" describes a variety of Germanic tribes who arrived in the mid-5th century - Angles, Saxons, Jutes, probably Frisians and Friesians - none kept a distinct identity for long. Bede in his

HISTORY written for you to date the 50th anniversary from the landing of ITHAGIST and ITHASA on the Kent coast in 449. Kent and East Angles were the first region to be decimated killed in "SAEONS". Tradition says ITHASA was killed in battle by the British King, VORTIGER in 455. Tradition says Voltaire and Benito were defeated by ITHAGIST at a place called CREGGAN Ford in 457

449

The JUTES under HENGEST and HORSA conquer KENT
in Southern Britain

449

Attila's second peace; he receives a subsidy.

Hengist and Horsa in Britain (traditional)

449-455

Saxons arrive in Britain

449 AD

The Robber Council of Ephesus, which did not have ecclesiastical sanction, declared itself in favor of opinions of EUTYCHES who contended that Christ had only one, the divine nature (Monophysitism)

AD 449

Angles - a Germanic tribe which in early times occupied the district of Angeln, in what is now the northern part of the Prussian province of SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN. They were called in for assistance by the inhabitants of England who were exposed to the incursions of the barbaric Scotch tribe after the Roman legions left England. About AD 449

The Anglo together with group of 50,000 and just accepting the invitation come to England, drive the PICTS and SCOTS back to SCOTLAND, but then turned against the inhabitants of England and removed their. The paper German kids created Christianity and associated Latin vocabulary in English and many of all elements were in AFRICA, East AFRICA, and NORTH AFRICA.
From them I know England was derived by intermarriage with SAXONS, & my people the descended with the people known as ANGL0-5AX0N5

Teutonic tribes of Britons

Angles And Saxons were summoned
by the Britons to aid in repelling PICTS And SCOTS.

The Angles & Saxons founded 8 states
SUSSEX, WESSEX, ESSEX, KENT, EAST ANGLIA
MERCIA, BERNICIA & DEIRA.

Bernicia & Deira were united to form NORTHUMBRIA.

Theoderic's wealth of daughters allowed him to supply the SVEVIC King RECHIAIR with me in 449, and he had the couple married in Toulouse.
On the way home from the meeting with his father-in-law and possibly supported by a Gothic contingent, RECHIAIR ravaged the area around ZARAGOZA and captured Ilerda.